Central American Security and Drug Policy Scholarship (CASAD)

for the Master of Arts in Latin American and Caribbean Studies (MALACS)

Deadline: Extended to April 15, 2018!

The Kimberly Green Latin American and Caribbean Center (LACC) at Florida International University invites prospective students from the Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Honduras, and Guatemala to apply to the Central American Security and Drug Policy Scholarship (CASAD). The CASAD program will provide tuition and stipend to students seeking to complete the Master of Arts in Latin American and Caribbean Studies (MALACS).

The Master of Arts in Latin American and Caribbean Studies (MALACS) is a unique interdisciplinary program that allows students to design their program based on their own research and career interests. The Program is particularly valuable to those students whose research and professional interests cannot be accommodated within a single discipline.

Requirements:

- To be a resident citizen of any of the following countries: Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala or Honduras
- Grade point average of 3.25 on a 4.0 scale (or equivalent) for the last 60 hours of undergraduate work or post-baccalaureate study
- Statement of purpose focused on research in security or drug policy in Central America and the Caribbean, and consistent with the goals of the program; explain why you are interested in attending FIU's MALACS Program.
- A total score of 80 or higher in the TOEFL.

For application and more information, please contact Viroselie Caviedes (vcaviede@fiu.edu) or visit the MALACS website at <https://lacc.fiu.edu/academics/ma-program/>
